

Because of Generous People Like You...

Sonia, a single mother of 3 children, is working toward a future in which she can provide an economically stable home for her family. Before entering Cope's Family Economic Success Program, Sonia never had much hope for making more than ends meet. Now she is earning her degree in Accounting and has a part time job at a payroll company in addition to her house cleaning job. "I know that I am showing my children that, when times are tough, don't give up and follow your dreams."
